Distance Selling Regulation

Should you wish to cancel your order after the first 7 days simply inform us via email and you will be entitled to a full refund of your order via PayPal. For overseas clients this starts when the DVD arrives.

The cost of sending DVD back is the clients unless the product is faulty. (This means if there is a fault in the DVD and not the client having the incorrect equipment to play it with.)

If the product is faulty and you would like another we will send another out free of charge. The faulty DVD will have to be sent back so we can diagnose the fault. We discuss this at the time of the fault and will pay for the postage.

Normally software is not covered by the DSR but I work in a very transparent way and I want to ensure full customer satisfaction
